Ann and Hans love to plant.

Ann digs deep.

Hans drops in the seeds.

Dad gets the seeds wet.

The warm sun will help the seeds bud.

"Planting seeds is so much fun!" says Hans.

"This is the best day!"
cheers Ann.

Ann and Hans

of the Swiss Alps

Ann and Hans, a brother-and-sister gardening team from the Swiss Alps, set out on an afternoon adventure with some friends. They meet animals along the way, see the countryside, and face a challenge that Dad helps them overcome. In the end there's a surprise for those who have patiently waited!

The sun peeks up in the Swiss Alps.

"Hans! Come and look!"

Hans runs from the  house and sees the land dusted

Days pass by.

Still there is no  snow .

With her help, Ann and Hans melt wax in a pot.

"At last, we are with Doc Sam," says Dad.

Ann and Hans

of the Swiss Alps

Winter is on its way to the Swiss Alps, and Ann and Hans just can't wait for it to snow!
When the snow does come,
though, something unexpected happens, and they have to
